FIND MY BODY

“Find My Body” is a studio dating show where one contestant finds her/his perfect soulmate by matching the heads of six contenders with their bodies. The contestant will see their real faces and through conversations, imagination and wit, try to match them with their bodies.

Each contender has a LED screen in front of them – the screens cover their body and reveal only their faces. The system will shuffle their bodies and pre-recorded videos will be displayed on the LED screens that cover them. These videos can be changed by the contestant simply by pressing a button. For example; with the first push, every participant will appear in tuxedos. With the second push, they will appear in swimsuits or they will be dancing. The body shootings will be done on the same background and color, the first videos will show them on their everyday looks, there are also additional shootings with different looks and outfits. The video images are vivid, showing their bodies take different positions or moves. In addition to the studio shootings, the candidates are also given a “free recording” chance, where they show their body with their favorite look and moves.

To make the show more dynamic, 2 or 3 contestants play the game in every episode (a male and female candidate in each episode for example) and most important of all, they should not see the candidates prior to the show.

FIND MY BODY

The main challenge for the contestant is matching the body videos with each participants' face, the conversation will help him/her to complete the imagination! They can have conversations with the candidates, and ask questions to them in order to understand better their lifestyle, taste and style – but they are not allowed to ask direct questions regarding their physical appearance. The contestant has the right to shuffle the body videos 5 times – this means there will be 5 videos of the bodies in different outfits and movements.

On the last stage, the contestant has to match the bodies to the faces by giving directions to the production team, who then will immediately place the chosen body under the chosen contender. They might refer to the contenders by their name, and call out body numbers. Once the candidate completes the selection and say that it is their final decision, there is no turning back! The results are revealed with green lights for the correct matches and red lights for the wrong ones.

The contestant will win 1000 euros for each right match and get the chance to take out one of the participants that she/he guessed right on a date with the prize money.
