Tale

“My Mother’s Tale” tells the poignant story of Zuhail and the painful sacrifices that she has to make to protect her three sons as tragedy strikes and secrets unfold, forcing the family to confront its dark past. Family and personal struggles are revealed behind apparent successes and failures in the emotional rollercoaster of her life.

Zuhail’s world comes crashing down around her when she takes her children to their father’s office one day and discovers that her husband Hasan is cheating on her with another woman. But she and her children will learn that love, though painful, can also be a beacon of light guiding them towards healing and redemption.

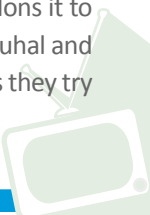

Much of her life is lived in the shadows, raising her children and supporting Hasan, but her strength grows amid adversity. He achieves success in construction and hotel businesses and buys houses, but he becomes increasingly emotionally distant from Zuhail. This in turn culminates in the betrayal when he leaves Zuhail and their children for another woman.

Personal challenges are a constant factor in her life, including the birth of her youngest son amid health problems that demand her resilience. The family is then hit by the reckless financial decisions of Hasan which lead to the family’s downfall. Zuhail is ultimately left to raise her children alone in an environment filled with resentment and despair.

Zuhail has a career as private secretary to the education minister, but she abandons it to focus on her family, working tirelessly to create a stable home for her children. Zuhail and her sons are shown struggling with poverty, loneliness, and emotional turmoil as they try to cope with the consequences of their father’s choices.
