Contestants:
20-30 contestants

Duration:
Weekly, Prime Time

STAIRWAY TO FAME

In the first phase, the contestants take their places behind a frosted screen placed on a 3 meter-high platform at the front end of the stage. One by one, they perform.

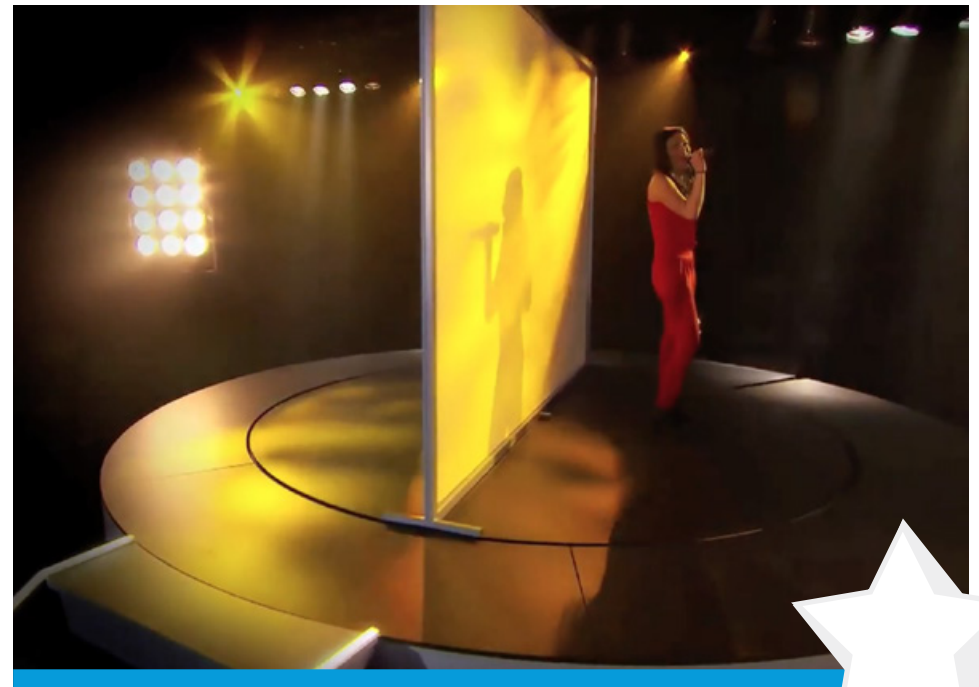

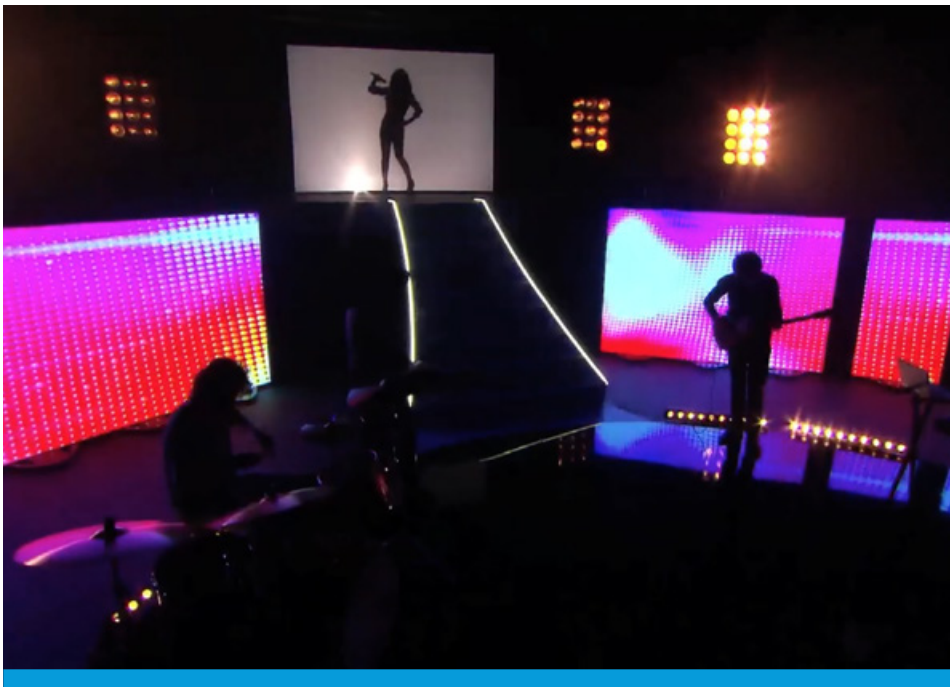

The goal of the candidates is to pass through a three step elimination process, reach the grand stage where the orchestra is, and perform in the grand finale. There can be only one winner.

The primetime completion show is 90 minutes a week, and at least 20 contestants perform in each episode. The presenter chats with the contestants who pass through all three stages and reach the orchestra. The judges will also chat with the contestants who pass through to the second stage.

At one end of the stage is the platform with the frosted screen, and at the other end the judge's four chairs are raised one meter high.

One of the most important elements of the format is that the finalists can also vote for the other contestants. If they pass through the three stages of competition, they will be seated behind the judges. Their votes will be evaluated after they are incorporated into the audience votes in the third stage of the format.
